He had been enjoying his usually good health up to last Saturday evening. While sitting on the stoop of his residence after sundown, on that evening, he was taken with a slight chill, which settled on his mation, from which he suffered all no fears of a fatal consequence. This morning it became apparent that the end was near. Dr. Charles E. Simonds and Miss Gould, a relative, were at the bedside a few moments before Tilden died. He tried to speak, but only moved his lips and failed to make any sound. I announce to the people of the State, with sincere regret, the death of Samuel J. Tilden. After a long and active career devoted to the public good and the rendison of arduous and conspinuous services in behalf of the people, he this morning pencefully passed away at his chosen rengibts and Saturday matinee. The encomiums they have received from the press of the cities in which they have performed would indicate that the show is first-class in every particular. There are constitutional conventions, Governor of the State for two years, and, in 1876, of the State for two years, and, in 1876, was the candidate of one of the greatest parties of the country for President. He received therefor the electoral vote of his native State, and upon the popular vote was declared the choice of a majority of the voters of the United States. As a private citizen, and in every public station, he was pure and upright, and disclared every trust with conspicuous tion, he was pure and upright, and discharged every trust with conspicuous fidelity. His last public utterance, which attracted universal attention, exhibited the same spirit of unselfish patriotism which characterized his whole career, and was in behalf of strengthening the defences of his country, that he loved so every care in treating Cutting with conwell. It is meet that the close of such a life should be marked with more than a passing notice. The Legislature a life should be marked with more than a passing notice. The Legislature not being in session at the time, I commend to the people of the State such expression of respect for his long, faithful and honorable services, as they may deem appropriate. Now, therefore, it is hereby decided as a mark of regard for the distinguished dead that the flags upon the Capitol and on all public buildings of the State, including the armories and arsenals of the National Guard, be displayed at half-mest until and including the day of the funeral, and citizens of the State for a like period are requested to unite in appropriate tokens of respect."

Presidency. The points may here be touched briefly, however.

Tilden's claim and the claim of his champions was, in bald terms, that he was elected to and "cheated out of the Presidency;" but the better and calmer judgment of the American people, and of history, is that that claim has no to history, is that that claim has no to his conditions. The points are presidency in the points and state and airing every day! How distracting to public business and affairs of state, and how human are Presidents and states.

of history, is that that claim has no good ground to rest upon.

A dispute over the Presidential election arose which could not be settled by the ordinary methods—by the machinery provided by law and the Constitution for the adjudication of electoral disputes. In that emergency—and it was a very serious emergency for the country—an entirely new method had to be devised and adopted. That method was the Electoral Commission—a scheme of Democratic origin in Congress, but accepted by the Republicans a scheme of Democratic origin in Congress, but accepted by the Republicans of that body. The Electoral Bill was passed into law, and a way out of the critical difficulty provided. The Electoral Commission, composed of five members of the United States Senate, five members of the House, and five Supreme Judges, was created, North Pole. A delightful retreat these of five members of the House, and five Supreme Judges, was created, and sat in judgment on the grave question at issue between the two great political parties. The members of that commission were of opposing parties, and selected for their ability, integrity and knowledge of right and law. The whole ground was gone over Startling developments were subsequently made, through the publication of the notorious "cipher dispatches," showing attempted frands of the most flagrant character on the part of Mr. Tilden or his political agents—attempts to buy delegates and States—to buy the Presidency. These attempts were folded. A result was reached. That result was adverse to the pretensions of Mr. Tilden or his political agents—attempts to buy delegates and the Democratic party, which, disappointed in the outcome of a judicial countest which itself had invoked, turned against the solution counted by the finder of the most of the contractive proper which it had formally entered into, and "dicked." It kicked with violonce and wehmence, but without avail. The Electoral Commission declared that Gen. Hayse had been elected to the Presidency, and was entitled to the bridge of the discussion was also and the consense of the single parties, and selected to the Presidency, and was entitled to the bridge of the discussion of the most of

At only with a spoon. Can now eat almost anything; is conddent of recovery.

Mr. Strohm of Flower street, suffering with abscess of liver for five weeks, given up by five physicians, was relived of all pain by one treatment from Dr. Truesdell. Next day walked to Opera Hall, over twelve blocks, for treatment, having slope well. Some nights previous, not having closed his eyes at all. Feels perfectly confident of restorstion to health. Mrs. T. M. Adams, Fourth street between Fort and Spring, M. E. revival preacher for twenty years, suffered for ten years with floating kidney; compelled to take morphine for years to alleviate pain. Had prayed and struggled to be delivered from taking the drug, fearing it might destry her soul; is willing to speak of it publicly, that others it may find the relief which has been granted her. Dr. Tracedell saw her leaving the hall, being too weary to sit longer. He said to "There's a sister who is suffering, and she is silled with the Holy Ghost! Come back! God has something for you? He laid his hands on her, and the spirit came with power. The kidney was restored to its place, the brain relieved at once and the desire for morphine was gone, and she has not again used it. She warned the audience with great carnesiness "to beware how they denied that this was the power of God." She can now, after all these years of suffering, digest her food and sleep as when a child.

Mrs. John Sutherland, 122 lifth street, Los Angeles, 40 years of age, born deaf in right ear, received one treatment from the doctor and two from Mrs. Bill. Oun now hear sounds, music, etc.

American Fruit Evaporator!

Every fruit-grower needs an evaporator. The fruit annually wasted on the Pacine Coast would, rightly cured, go far toward supplying this want. The evaporator is the growers brake upon a down grade of prices. The AMERICAN is pre-en inently the fruit-raisers' machine. Its sizes grade from domestic to manufacturing wants. Hankes the highest quality of work with ordinary care in handling. There is no need of making anything else. Though "e approve a slight use of sulphur, the AMERICAN is specially adapted for highest grade in unbleached work. It places ireab cut fruit first in highest and dryest heat; cures out surfaces at once and keeps them dry, thereby setting and making permanent the color, and also, thereby, as in broiling steaks, securing the highest quality in product. We place our experience in evaporating at the disposal of our customers. In some cases this gratuitous services is of more value than prices paid us for evaporators. Our Mode of Curing Catarrh. The applications are made to reach every part of the diseased surface in the most direct part of the diseased surface in the most direct and positive manner; instantaneously peneritating every cell and cavity of the head communicating with the nostrils. In this manner we have treated the most obstinate cases of catarrh with complete success, after all other attempts have failed. We care not how long the disease may have continued, or from what cause it did arise. Every case of catarrh is curable.

The following are the distinguishing features of our mode of treatment:

1. A single application gives immediate comfort, and relieves at once the most distressing and paintal symptoms.

2. The hardened secretions are softened and removed, causing the greatest amount of

5. The applications employed can be made at home with perfect success and without interfering with diet or business.
6. In all cases of catarrh, where the system suffers from the deleterious effects of scrofula or other vitated condition of the blood, the local treatment is invariably conjoined with constitutional remedies.
